

Heritage

22 Junction Terrace, Annerley

Key details

Addresses At 22 Junction Terrace, Annerley, Queensland 4051

Type of place House

Period Victorian 1860-1890

Style Queenslander

Lot plan L19_RP37475

Key dates Local Heritage Place Since — 1 January 2004
Date of Information — March 2011

Construction Roof: Corrugated iron;
Walls: Masonry

This brick cottage, constructed circa 1890, is a colonial-era 'worker's cottage' built on a relatively small sixteen perch block. It was built during Annerley's first boom period in the 1880s and 1890s, with improved transportation and infrastructure in the area encouraging its growth as a residential suburb. Originally purchased by John Herbert Brooks in 1891, it was sold within a year to his brother Frank, a well-known Annerley bricklayer, who played a large role in the rebuilding efforts following the 1893 floods. The house has since passed through a number of owners.

Copyright Brisbane City Council

Note: This information has been prepared on the basis of evidence available at the time including an external examination of the building. The statement of significance is a summary of the most culturally important aspects of the property based on the available evidence, and may be re-assessed if further information becomes available. The purpose of this information is to provide an informed evaluation for heritage registration and information. This does not negate the necessity for a thorough conservation study by a qualified practitioner, before any action is taken which may affect its heritage significance.

prepared by — Brisbane City Council (page revised March 2023)

Dedicated to a better Brisbane